EX-SULTAN HAMID FEARS SURE DEATH FROM VACCINATION

(Special from United Press.)

Constantinople, Nov. 26.—Ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid is clamoring loudly today for the Young Turkish government to gather together the most competent surgeons in Europe and ship them at once to the villa at Salonica where he is the "guest" of the government. Abdul's private doctor, despite his royal master's protest, insisting on vaccinating him and the former ruler is certain that the vaccination will result in his death.

Abdul had for years resisted the demand that he take this precaution, but the recent outbreak of small-pox near Salonica decided the doctors to insist. The vaccine worked a little too well and the deposed ruler says that he would have preferred the small-pox. All the assurances of his doctor, who tells him that the arm will be quite well in a few days, are in vain. He now declares that the surgeon is in a conspiracy to end his life and begs that the government will send for European doctors to relieve him.

AMERICAN GIRL MUSICAL PRODIGY

(Special from United Press.)

Berlin, Nov. 26.—A 19 year old American girl, Olga Steeb, of Los Angeles, Cal., is to-day hailed by Berlin musical critics as one of the world's greatest pianists. Charles F. Kieffer, professor at one of Berlin's leading conservatories, who claims the credit of discovering the young American artist, insists that "no living pianist equals her. Kieffer brought Miss Steeb to be heard by many critics and her playing amazed them."

The new pianist is a plain American girl of German extraction. She is small of stature and childish in appearance and manners. She astonished Berlin by her repertoire, playing all of Bach's 250 compositions from memory as well as about 400 classical and modern compositions. Her American training was received in Los Angeles where she studied with Philo Becker.

Connecticut Auto Club To be Organized

It may be said with good authority that the Connecticut Automobile association will be reorganized on a radical scale, so as to make eligible all automobile owners, and manufacturers in the state, instead of the members of the various automobile clubs only and in order to vigorously push the campaign for good roads and against excessive taxation of automobiles.

POINTS OF INTEREST.

Great 16th Anniversary Sale at E. H. Dillon & Co., 1105 Main street. Exceptional price reductions in beautiful millinery, shirt waists, cloth tailored suits, cloth military capes, separate cloth skirts, petticoats, raincoats, fur scarfs, fur muffs, fur sets and pony skin coats.

Fancy Overcoats. There never has been a winter season in recent years when high colors have had so marked a vogue in overcoats as this winter of nineteen-nine. So popular are light colors, in all the variations of gray and green, that a veritable famine is beginning to manifest itself in the clothing trade. The call is for more and more fancy overcoats, and the cloth market are being scourged from end to end in the effort to supply the enormous demand. Meigs & Co., however, made very heavy purchases of the fancy fabrics now so popular early in the season, so that while other stores are able to show only limited lines of fancy overcoats, Meigs & Co., are showing a tremendous variety of the most beautiful fancy overcoats any man could ask to see.

DEPEW CRITICISES TAFT RAILWAY PLANS

New York, Nov. 26.—One of the warmest fights, in Congress and out, which has ever been waged by the railroads and their allies over legislation finally threatening the railroads of the country is likely to begin in the next few months, should the reported views of President Taft on sweeping changes in the railway laws, giving added power to the Interstate Commerce Commission, be incorporated in his message to Congress in the form of recommendations as indicated in dispatches from Washington, following a conference between the President and his advisers on Wednesday.

There is a wide diversity of opinion among railroad men as to the effect of the individual items of the proposed changes in the laws concerning Federal supervision of Interstate Commerce. These railroad men who were to be found yesterday, however, said that they believed that the views on the question of increased Federal control which were attributed in the dispatches to President Taft would probably be greatly modified before they took form as statute.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew, chairman of the Executive committee of the New York Central Railroad, speaking from the standpoint of a railroad man rather than as a Federal lawmaker, heartily indorses some of the features of this proposed legislation. Others he found fault with. He said that many of the powers the President was recommending to be given to the Interstate Commerce Commission were already possessed by the Public Service Commission of New York State, and that the railroads of other States. In the matter, for instance, of supervision of the issue of stocks and bonds, he points out that the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad recently had to obtain the permission of three States before a new issue, increasing its stock, could be made. Some States he added, will put their money into useful things this year and this store is prepared to furnish them so that the money can be made to go as far as possible.

2,000 LIVE FISH CAUGHT IN STORM

New Haven, Nov. 26.—The fishing smack Annie D., of Block Island, Capt. Wilbur, arrived in New Haven harbor last night on her way from Block Island to Fulton Market, New York, with her well filled with 2,000 live codfish.

She was caught in the violence of the northeast gale early on Wednesday evening while attempting to make the run from New London up the Sound, and while she was off Cornfield shoal. The force of the gale was such that the bonnet was torn out of her jib, and she was compelled to put into Duck Island breakwater to make repairs to sails and to her upper works. She proceeded here under easy sail yesterday, and if the weather favors she will continue her voyage to New York, where she will be fully repaired.

Her commander telegraphed from here to his consignees in New York last night that his cargo of fish was intact, and that he hoped to be able to deliver them by Sunday. Fresh codfish are said to be scarce and high in New York, and the Annie D.'s cargo will sell at a good figure when it is delivered there.

BLOWN OFF CAR STEALING A RIDE

Michael Londrigan, of Louisville, Ky., who is said to belong to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, was taken through this city last evening on a freight train bound for Harlem River, while suffering from injuries received in consequence of having been blown from the top of a freight car of a train near Midway (just east of New London) while the recent northeast storm was at its height early yesterday morning.

Londrigan was beating his way, it is said, from Boston to New York, with the intention of trying to reach his home city. After the train had left Midway for New Haven, he attempted to walk along the tops of the cars from the engine to the caboose, and while so doing he was struck by the wind, and hurled from the top of the train.

He lay by the track for some time, and was later discovered by track walker, and was put on a freight train and forwarded to New Haven. There, while apparently internally injured, he refused to be taken to a hospital, and went on his way to New York.

Your Credit is Good Says Caesar Misch, Inc.

What a welcome message that is to many and many a family whose ability to pay is unquestioned, but who living on a salary can put aside but a small portion each week or month. It takes time that way to accumulate the money for cash purchases as everyone knows and here is Caesar Misch, Inc., a store filled with clothing and many other needful things, that says "Come buy of us, we will take the place of accumulated capital. Buy what you want and pay us as convenient from your weekly or monthly balances. We do not even ask you to pay us a penny when a purchase is made." What an opportunity this is to step into the class of people who enjoy all the advantages of credit. Credit is the basis of all business transactions and the Caesar Misch, Inc. way of selling, is the natural way. It is good business for them, good business for their patrons. Many families have been holding off buying because of the unusual weather conditions, but now buying warm, good looking clothes can be put off no longer. The special offerings in ladies' dresses, tailored suits, and furs are well irresistible, and they are being eagerly sought after by those who wish to look their best. Protector overcoats, the overcoat with two collars, is having a boom among the men, and the regular styles and stylishly cut suits are selling fast. As Christmas is only a month away, this is a grand time to buy jewelry.

BLACK OPALS

As Described by the Artist
Du Ble

"When Nature had finished painting the flowers, coloring the rainbow and dyeing the plumage of the birds, she swept the colors from her palette and moulded them into Black Opals."

This may be a little fanciful, but it is no exaggeration of the beauty and marvel of these gems. Some stones are as soft in tone as the iris on the neck of a dove; others as notous in color as a Dutch garden in spring.
